

Slip 'em a Mikki®

Big Jewelry...Big Hair...Big Heart...HUGE SUCCESS!!!
Everybody raved about how you managed to connect with and touch something in each and every one of them. The reviews were unanimously spectacular. You truly exceeded my wildest expectations!

Dan Maddux
Executive Director
American Payroll Association

"You know you are in the midst of a great presentation when the CFO of the company decides that the message is so relevant, that instead of limiting the workshop to sales, marketing and management, he is going to shut down the company for the afternoon so that everyone will benefit! As you know, this is what happened and I know that everyone came away from the afternoon ready to apply what he or she learned both at work and outside of the office."

Jim McColl
Vice President
United Learning

"You sent our sales people out ready to achieve any goal! You are by far the best. Out of approximately seven hundred evaluations collected, your programs were always voted #1!"

Chuck Petrozzini
Training and Development
Bristol-Myers Squibb

"As a past president of the Million Dollar Round Table, I have had the opportunity to review and listen to hundreds of speakers. You are, unquestionably, one of the best."

William T. O'Donnell
Million Dollar Round Table
Mass Mutual

"I want to thank you for an OUTSTANDING keynote presentation at Northwestern Mutual's Annual Meeting this summer. You CRUSHED it! As the chairperson of this year's planning committee, you met and exceeded my expectations."

Steve L. Braun, CLU
Convention Chair
Wealth Management Advisor

"Thanks for delivering for our audience once again. The standing ovation was evaluation enough. Our members absolutely adore you."

Vaughn Limbrick
Director of Education
(SHRM) Society for Human Resources

"Thank you for taking the time out of your busy schedule to speak to the employees of the Executive Office of the President. Words cannot express how moved we were by your outstanding presentation."

Denise Terry
Program Director
The White House."

"Talking to a group of highly charged investment people is challenging to say the least, especially when they are mostly male and all from New York. You did an incredible job... you researched our industry and customized your presentation to include our people's names, incidents, and industry information. It shows you did your homework and you made me look like a star"

Edward L. Rose
Senior Vice President
Royce Investment Group

Be Outrageous, It's The Only Place That Isn't Crowded™

A Speaker Who Lifts You Up and Never Lets You Down!

Presentation Topics

The Whole Life Trilogy

PART 1: Inspiration! Interaction! Humor! Pathos! The most requested, favorite keynote of audiences worldwide.

Its universal message of quality of life, change and balance has inspired people to make significant changes in their personal and professional lives.

PART 2: Life is full of interruptions; birth, death, divorce, relocation, new job, health challenges, financial disasters, events that shape our lives and give us opportunities to evaluate, change, grow and find our purpose in life.

PART 3: There are times in our lives when we wonder if our vision is in sync with our values. When our purpose, our ideals and our results are not in harmony, we are out of balance. Maintaining a perspective, when we are racing to keep up with time, in an era which always seems to be accelerating, is one of life's greatest challenges.

All businesses have a story but at work everyone naturally gravitates toward using logic and statistics because it seems more professional. No matter how compelling your facts are, if your audience isn't invested in what you are saying, all the info is lost on them. Whether you're selling your product, sharing your company vision or creating a culture, storytelling is your greatest vehicle for success.

The ability to speak in front of people is an essential success skill, and no skill opens more doors, creates more visibility, and gives you more opportunity to exercise power.

This interactive, humorous and enlightening presentation provides a heightened sensitivity to people's behavioral styles, recognition of the kind of environment they require to do their best and knowledge about how to minimize conflict.

Networking is the contact sport of the millennium. It's the success skill and prospecting tool for sales people, managers, top executives, and for anyone who wishes to get ahead personally and professionally.

Bio for Mikki Williams, CSP

A Speaker Who Lifts You up and Never Lets You Down!

What do the Cree Indians of Canada, bankers in Australia, farmers in Indiana, insurance agents in Singapore and German fitness professionals all have in common with AT&T, IBM and Lockheed? Mikki Williams, CSP; international speaker, trainer, consultant, coach, author, radio and TV personality, entrepreneur extraordinaire and mensch (Yiddish for very real human being)! Okay, okay, she's got big hair and big jewelry but most of all she's got a big heart. Attendees everywhere relate to her human-ness, no matter what the topic...you will too.

Whether addressing the prestigious Million Dollar Round Table or sharing the platform with Suze Ormon or Tony Robbins, her unique storytelling is transformational, thought provoking and she holds her audience members accountable to action. A highly sought-after speaker, Mikki provides take-home messages that improve the quality of people's lives. Her unique audio/visual aids, NOT Power Point or computer-generated graphics but Play-Doh, PIES cards and customized goal bands have made her programs more memorable and fun. When people laugh they relax and they learn more. Mikki believes in the power of humor in all programs, whether inspirational or business skills.

She is a keynoter who will come in early to meet and greet your attendees and incorporate their names and vignettes into her program, making it more relevant for them.

She's a speaker who does her homework by researching your industry, interviewing your people, using industry jargon and customer-izing to provide the most value. Mikki reads several books a month to keep up with the latest in business and personal development. Her material is always fresh and creative, In addition to Mikki Williams Unltd. her speaking, training, consulting firm, and Coaching, etc... her coaching enterprise and her Speakers Schools, she is the Group Chair of two executive peer advisory boards affiliated with Vistage International, the world's largest executive membership organization.

An inspirational humorist and business motivator, her many successful careers have given her a wealth of information and experience in sales and marketing, teamwork, communication skills, customer service, creativity, change management, humor in the workplace, wellness and motivation. She has co-authored a book on customer service, compiled a book of her favorite quotations called Mikki Mouth: Quotations I Wish I'd Said and Some I Did Say! and produced CDs and DVDs. Her inspirational life story has been optioned for a book and TV movie. An Enthusiologist™ who went from dance choreographer through nine successful careers to word choreographer, she mixes entertainment and humor with business savvy and knowledge to share insight and inspiration for life changing impact. From the corporate world to the ever changing world we live in, she is a breath of fresh air; outrageous, fun, stimulating, informative and most of all, real!
